

Message One—Study Questions

1. Explain how the economy of God is an issue of God's will, purpose, good pleasure, and counsel.
2. Explain how David and Solomon are strong evidences that the history of the kings of Israel is related to the economy of God.
3. Explain the different views of Christians toward typology and the proper attitude we should have to interpret typology.
4. With the proper understanding of typology, what should our view toward the Old Testament and the New Testament be?
5. With the understanding of the intrinsic revelation in 1 and 2 Kings, explain how the kings typify the New Testament believers.